

École Citadelle

By Grant Cree

The newly constructed École Citadelle is scheduled to open in September and will host approximately 250 students in Grades 4 to 9.

According to Principal Lisa Magera, the new design has the school divided by the gym in the middle, with elementary classes on one side and junior high classes on the other.

“The traffic flow should be much easier than the building we’re in right now,” said Magera. The layout will be useful for student gatherings for announcements, award ceremonies and other activities.

The centrally-located Learning Commons (library) opens onto the gym and is intended to provide a pleasant gathering space for students.

“The centre of the school will be very much a hub for activities,” said Magera.

“One of the other cool things we’re hoping to have is a cafeteria space where kids can eat because we have a nice serving area. So that’ll be a plus for junior high students and parents.”

The school offers a few unique experiences: full-time kindergarten, free bussing and a hockey academy for participating students in Grades 4 to 9.

“They’re on the ice at least two hours a week, next door at the arena,” said Magera. “It’s at a very reasonable cost because we don’t need to have any bussing.”

École Citadelle will also work with Legal School on the outdoor playground.

“We’re going to be in talks with Legal School to see how we can do something together for both of our schools,” said Magera.

She added the plan is to have two outdoor basketball courts open in September.

The new École Citadelle will have room for preschool, a wood workshop, and a team that looks forward to meeting students and their parents. “We have a very dynamic, enthusiastic staff, and we’re hoping to grow our numbers,” said Magera.

“We’re looking for new families who want to join our program. And if anybody would like to visit the school or have more information, they can call me.”

École Citadelle plans to host a welcome back event on Aug. 30. Visit their website for more details.

Did you know the Credit Union originally formed in June 1943 and operated out of the Legal Co-Op until 1967 when it purchased it's first building for $7,000.00? The current Servus Credit Union building was built in 1976. For more information on Legal's history, be sure to visit <https://www.legal.ca/experience/local-tourism/history>.

Introducing Smith Media and Consulting

By Grant Cree

After 25 years of teaching music to Morinville residents, Smith Music has pivoted into serving corporations and municipalities such as Smith Media and Consulting. June 30 was the last day of Smith Music which focused on teaching, recording and supporting live shows.

"During COVID, our live production portion of our business was affected, so we pivoted that, and our recording studio, into content creation for businesses and municipalities," said Smith.

"I'm humbled at how responsive people have been, which made me get so busy." Smith emphasized this is not "a sad story of Covid killing a teaching business" but rather a story of personal and business evolution.

"I've always thought I would teach until nobody wants to listen to me anymore," he laughed. "The business was fine, and it was making money; it's just that I couldn't do everything."

After he posted that message on his Facebook page, Smith was astonished at the positive response from the community.

"I put a video together on May 9, and the stories I love from the community have blown me away. This is the hardest decision I've ever made from a business perspective because I love teaching."

His new role will include new opportunities for creating music.

"For example, I create all original music for content that I make, which is kind of a unique business position for content creation," said Smith. As for his music teaching business, he's handing that over to trusted and experienced tutors who love what they do.

"I decided to give that to my teachers so they could continue on, and the students could have that reliability. It just felt like the right thing to do," he said.

Smith noted that if he's contacted by people who want musical tutorials, he will give referrals to local instructors with teaching businesses.

"Teaching for finished June 29," he said. "I hope that somebody better than myself will come along, and if I don't make room for them, then it's not going to happen. My belief as a teacher was that I was only successful if

Ultimate rock showcase

The band Judgement Day was full of rocker energy and put on a great show. Photo: Rock Camp Alberta

By Myrina Carter

Through the second week of July, Rock Camp Alberta and its participants have been busy preparing for a showcase for the community to enjoy at the Morinville Community Cultural Centre on July 9.

The program was designed for attendees to home in on their talents and learn to work in an intensive setting.

The staff are enthusiastic Alberta-certified teachers who ensure high-quality instruction.

To join the camp, children needed to be between the ages of 12-19 and have a minimum of two years of instrument experience.

Many kids signed up with knowledge of the guitar, bass guitar, drums, keyboard, tambourine, and vocals.

The kids were taught to prepare a five-song set in a band setting, produce recordings, and perform in the ultimate rock show on their last day of camp.

They were placed in bands according to the genre of music each student played.

Players then got to create their band names, design logos, choose concert attire, and choose a band image for a photo shoot.

Crowds flooded into the Morinville Community Cultural Centre to see the rock show!

The band Trusted by Millions played a fantastic pop-rock set.

LD-50 had the group singing to classic rock.

People were head-banging to the pure heavy metal played by Aggression Obsession.

Judgment Day sang harmoniously with classics that groove.

Introducing Smith Media and Consulting

I made students better than I am.”

The business model for Smith Media and Consulting is directed to corporations and municipalities.

“There’s a big overlap of content creation and some communication and some marketing,” said Smith.

“I’m focused on the content creation portion of it. But when I’m working with clients, it tends to cast a bit of a wider net,” he said. His new website launches in early July, and he will redirect the Smith Music domain to the new website.

“During the past 25 years working with so many clients, I’ve had the opportunity to learn more from my clients than I’ve ever been able to teach,” said Smith.

“The love and respect of the community is what I take with me. And I want to thank every person who has ever been in Smith Music for the love and support the community has shown.”

Here’s How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Raoul St. Jean, a proud life long resident of the Town of Legal

Raoul St. Jean, a proud life long resident of the Town of Legal (from 1928-2021), has memories with the town will never be forgotten. A tribute honoring all that Raoul St. Jean has done for the community took place on Saturday, June 25, 2022 with a plaque that has been mounted to the Legal Fire Hall's Flagpole. Through his lifetime, Raoul served the town as the Public Works Foreman (1949-1988), a Police Constable (1955-1972), Councillor (1992-1999), founder and member of both the Legal Fire Department (1949-1996) and the Legal Ambulance (1965-1988). Albert St. Jean (son of Raoul) (image 1), Mayor Trina Jones (image 2) and Chief Administrative Officer Robert Proulx (image 3) addressed family, friends, relatives and community members that were in attendance.

The District of Legal Fire Department proudly displayed some of the emergency response vehicles at the event.
