Morinville Jets to host provincials in 2025

By Stephen Dafoe

With a few games left in the Capital Junior Hockey League (CJHL) regular season and the Jets soon readying for playoffs, preparations for the 2024-2025 provincials are underway behind the scenes. Next year, the Jets will host the provincials from April 2 to 6. Morinville Jets' President Brent Melville said there are five leagues in Alberta, and every five years, one of the CJHL's 14 teams gets to host. "Hockey Alberta put out a bid in November, and we put a bid forward for us hosting it," Melville said, adding they were up against two other league teams for the honour. "What has changed in the league is they used to have eight teams in the provincials. Now there are only six, so we only need one rink. Before, you needed two rinks, so we couldn't do it at that time." With the bid completed in late December, Melville discovered in mid-January that the Jets are hosting in 2025. As the host team, the Jets are guaranteed a spot in provincials next year, along with one other CJHL team. Divisional winners from the leagues in Calgary, Northern Alberta, North-Eastern Alberta, and Central Alberta will also be invited.

Melville is looking forward to it as it is an opportunity for players to experience something they may not have in their career thus far. "It's kind of a neat thing because winning the provincial championship is one thing, but being in it is another," he said. "It's quite an experience. Although Melville said Hockey Alberta does a great job of putting many things in place for the host community, the Jets must secure sponsors and create a committee, which will commence well ahead of the event in the coming months. Although the Jets

Omnibus amendments to Morinville Land Use Bylaw passes first reading

By Colin Smith

An omnibus amendment to give Morinville's Land Use Bylaw its first thorough overhaul for more than ten years has received its first reading by the town council. Introducing the measure to council at its Tuesday, Jan. 23 meeting, Senior Planner Duncan Martin of the Planning and Economic Development department said that the Land Use Bylaw has had 51 amendments since it was passed in 2012. Martin noted that continuous review and refinement of the bylaw is considered best practice, as trends in development change over time and its continuous use points to opportunities for refinement. The purpose of the update is to provide a thorough review of the Land Use Bylaw to ensure it is clear, consistent and complies with provincial legislation. It focuses on clarifying definitions and general regulations without changes to land use districts or penalties for bylaw regulations. "This is a regular review and house-keeping," said Martin. "They are important, but in no way is this a new land use bylaw. "Just like a car, we have detailed it, but we didn't go out and buy a whole new car."

More than 300 textual changes have been included in the omnibus amendment, most to provide clarity for the user. Other reasons for changes include incorporation into other sections and combination into other definitions. Fire pit regulations will now be incorporated into the Land Use Bylaw. The new regulations will make fire pits a permitted development for a property rather than being related to an individual. That would prevent fire pits from becoming illegal when a property changes hands and are guaranteed a spot in next year's provincials as the host, Melville is confident the Jets could have a chance at provincials this year and should do well when hosting next year.

"We have a very good team this year," Melville said. "In Junior B, you are allowed four overage kids up to 21 years. We have one, whereas St.

Albert has four, and most teams have four. Next year, we'll have four. We'll be an older team next year."

While the event should provide some great hockey entertainment for locals, Melville sees the provincials as advantageous for Morinville and the broader region as five teams will be from out of town, and four of those from outside the Capital Region.

"They'll be using the restaurants, the gas stations, everything, really, for five days," Melville said.

"It's putting Morinville on the map, and people not realizing what we have. We have a fair amount to offer.

The Morinville Jets currently sit in second place in the CJHL's West Division with no opportunity to be edged out of that spot by their closest rival. As such, the Jets will receive a bye in the first round of playoffs.

Fun By The Numbers: Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

What is the Land Use Bylaw about?

Administration created the proposed Bylaw No. 2/2024 after a thorough examination of the existing bylaw, focusing on consistency, accuracy, simplification, and legislative compliance. The scope of this review was limited to general regulations, definitions, and terminology. It did not address Land Use District regulations, the regulatory intent or underlying philosophy, or the nature of use definitions.

The purpose of Bylaw 2/2024 is to incorporate a series of procedural amendments ensuring the bylaw remains current and effective in facilitating development.

would increase enforcement options if required.

An amendment to the Fire Services By-law to reflect this change to the Land Use Bylaw was also given first reading.

Once change to landscaping standards, with relation to on-site grading and development, provides clarity and consistency for developers.

The amended bylaw would include a definition of a violation tag: a ticket or similar document issued by a peace officer pursuant to the Municipal Government Act.

The process of developing the omnibus amendment began with an audit of the bylaw by Invistec Consulting Ltd. that focused on internal consistency and alignment with best practices.

The audit was used as basis for a detailed in-house review and update, in which participants included Enforcement Services, Fire Services and Infrastructure Services.

The draft amendment document was also provided to Morinville's builders and developers, who had few concerns or comments.

Only one developer put forward a question about removing "zero lot line" and "secondary suite" from the definition section of the bylaw.

Administration responded that these definitions were now incorporated into other areas of the bylaw.

With the omnibus amendment having passed first reading, notices will now go out for a public hearing to be held together with a council meeting on February 13, with second and third readings to follow.

Martin indicated that next will be a review of Morinville's Direct Control Land Use Districts, with a view toward finding opportunities for clarification and simplification.

The Morinville Curling Club held its annual Men's bonspiel over the weekend, assembling 16 teams for two days of competition. Finals were held on Sunday afternoon. Team Olsen took the A event, Team Borkovic took B, Assenheimer the C event, and Team McCagherty took the D event. - Stephen Dafoe Photo

SCHOOL NEWS

Namao School

Before the holiday break, our STEAM students tackled designing and constructing tiny homes from start to finish! Our students were lucky to have both a lesson on framing from Mr. Jamieson, and a lesson on electrical coding from Mr. Olson, an electrical engineer who works for Levven Electrical.

The challenge was to not only design and construct a tiny house, but also to equip it with an alarm system attached to the front door. Working in teams of two, the students brought their visions to life using a variety of materials, and then had their final creations judged by Mr. Olson and Mr. Jamieson.

Overall, it was an excellent display of teamwork and problem solving, and the results were so creative!

Guthrie School

We are thrilled to join United Way's Make your Mark, presented by Dentons. This is a valuable opportunity for students to have a positive impact in their community and develop fundamental leadership skills. The Grade six class has chosen to create a "Community Closet".

Students and community members will have access to items such as toiletries, school supplies, clothing and some food items.

Military life often comes with its own set of challenges, including relocations, deployments, and the unique stressors that service members and their families may experience.

Wellness becomes a multi-faceted concept that encompasses not only physical health but also mental and emotional well-being. Community support can play a pivotal role in fostering a sense of belonging and solidarity.

The grade six class presented their ideas to the United Way and were accepted for the $1000 grant!

The "Community Closet" is located inside Guthrie School (follow the signs labelled community closet) and will be accessible now until the end of June.

Anyone who is interested in making donations is more than welcome to drop them off at our school office.

Sturgeon Composite High School

In an exciting development for Sturgeon Composite High School's Spirit Rover project, students collaborated with Benchmark Instrumentation to finalize the rover's suspension and steering system.

The project, spanning multiple years and disciplines, aims to construct an autonomous robot inspired by NASA's Mars rovers.

After two student meetings and additional sessions with Kevin Hubick, the project lead, Tim and Joe from Benchmark Instrumentation successfully translated the students' ideas into a tangible product. The result is a sophisticated six-wheel-drive, four-wheel-turn system, ready for assembly.

Hubick expressed his excitement about the engineering journey, emphasizing the transformation from rough ideas to a finalized design. The collaborative effort signifies a significant step forward for the project, bringing the school one step closer to witnessing the Spirit Rover roam its halls. The next phase involves students taking charge of wiring and programming, marking a crucial step towards the project's completion. The successful collaboration between students and industry professionals showcases the power of hands-on learning and real-world application within an educational setting, inspiring the next generation of innovators.
