

Town of Morinville wins two Provincial awards for 'More in Morinville' Campaign amid record construction value

Town of Morinville release

The Town of Morinville is proud to announce that its 'More in Morinville' campaign has been recognized with two major honours at the 2025 Economic Developers Alberta (EDA) Awards of Excellence. The awards received are:

- The Marketing for Economic Development Outcomes Award, which celebrates marketing initiatives that have contributed to tangible economic development outcomes.

- The Alex Metcalfe Best in Show Small Community/Region Award, a prestigious honour presented to one standout project in each population category.

This award is named after one of EDA's founding members, and first president, and is judged from among all community award winners.

About the More in Morinville campaign

This is a proud recognition for Morinville, as the campaign directly supported the Economic Development goal outlined in Morinville's 2022-2025 Strategic Plan.

The initiative brought Morinville together with four residential developers (Jandel Homes, Lamont Land LP, Landrex Inc. and TAG Developments Ltd.) in a unique partnership designed to showcase Morinville as an exceptional place to live, invest and enjoy.

Launched in spring 2024, 'More in Morinville' included the creation of a new website, high-impact marketing campaigns and community block parties that highlighted Morinville's unique amenities and sense of connection, along with Morinville's new Economic Development branding.

Construction value increased in Morinville following the campaign launch

A significant boost in local construction spurred, with building values skyrocketing from $13.7 million in 2023 to over $51 million in 2024.

This reflects heightened development

Morinville’s Craft Beer Club is all about good brews and good company

By Shelley Winger

What started as a casual Facebook post in the early days of COVID-19 has grown into a vibrant community of craft beer lovers. The Morinville Craft Beer Club, founded by local homebrewer Scott Richardson, now boasts over 250 members and continues to introduce people to Alberta’s booming craft beer scene. “I was exploring the Alberta craft beer scene when COVID lockdowns started,” Richardson said. “With time on my hands, I wanted to try a variety of beers help support the breweries. I posted asking if anyone wanted to swap some beers, and about 20 friends replied right away.” That small idea quickly turned into something bigger. A Facebook group was created and ballooned to over 100 members within a week. The group began organizing bi-weekly beer buys through Legendary Liquor in Morinville. Members would pitch in to sample beers from four different Alberta breweries – eight beers total, with two of each style. One of the club’s most popular traditions is its annual Christmas beer advent calendar, featuring 24 unique beers for each day leading up to Christmas. “It became a fun way to explore a wide range of local brews as a community,” Richardson said. While the large beer buys have slowed down, the group still runs monthly buys, making it easy for members to try new brews without committing to a full pack. “It’s all about trying new things, having fun, and supporting Alberta breweries,” said Richardson. Surprising favorites are part of the fun. “There are so many styles that don’t sound super appealing at first, but once you try them, they really work,” he said. One memorable hit?

A Mango Guava Bal-clava Milkshake IPA from Growlery Beer Co. in Edmonton. “Not something I would’ve picked off the shelf, but I ended up loving it.” Richardson is a fan of hop-forward beers with bold, fruity aromas, like Hazy NEPAs (New England Pale Ales) and American Red Ales. “I like beers that are juicy and aromatic with low to moderate bitterness,” he said. “These styles often bring out fruit-like notes like citrus, mango, or berries, without any actual fruit added. The flavours come from the hops and malt, and when done right, they’re incredible.” As for breweries, he said it’s hard to choose just one. “There are so many fantastic breweries in Alberta,” he said. “But we’re lucky to have Sturgeon Brewing right here in Morinville. They brew some awesome beers and have been a great part of the local scene.” Some of his personal favorites include Super Saturation from Cabin Brewing and Varsity Hall Red Ale from Snake Lake Brewing – both standouts for their bold flavour and balance. The group is open to anyone curious about craft beer. “Everyone is welcome,” said Richardson. “Whether you’re a seasoned beer lover or just want to try something new, it’s a fun and friendly way to explore the world of Alberta beer.” You can find the Morinville Craft Beer Club on Facebook or follow them on Instagram to stay up to date on group buys and local beer picks.

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Morinville’s Maxine Montpellier marks 100 remarkable years with heartfelt celebration

By Haylee Winger

Heritage Place Lodge was filled with joy and heartfelt emotion on Thursday, April 17, as family, friends, and community members gathered to celebrate the 100th birthday of Maxine Montpellier, a long-time resident of Morinville and a beloved figure in the local community.

The dining room of the lodge was transformed for the special occasion, with festive decorations, delicious refreshments, and cake.

Live entertainment was provided by Ed Bulger, whose performance added warmth and cheer to the event, creating a vibrant and joyful atmosphere befitting such a milestone.

In the days leading up to the celebration, Maxine shared her growing excitement with the staff at Heritage Place Lodge.

When asked if she had any wisdom to share about living to 100, she simply replied that she had no secret formula – other than living each day to its fullest.

A standout moment of the celebration was the arrival of Mayor Simon Boersma, who made a special visit to recognize Maxine’s incredible milestone.

He presented her with a 100-Year Centennial Certificate in tribute to her remarkable achievement.

His visit added a meaningful touch to the day and reflected the community’s admiration for Maxine’s long and inspiring life.

The staff at Heritage Place Lodge were proud to be part of the celebration and spoke warmly of Maxine’s impact on the community.

"We were honored to host such a meaningful celebration, and we’re truly pleased with the success of the event," said Courtney Farmer, Recreation Coordinator at Heritage Place Lodge.

"The day was a testament to Maxine’s enduring vitality and the affection she has cultivated over the years. We extend our heartfelt congratulations to her on this extraordinary milestone and wish her many more years of happiness and health."

Her 100th birthday was not only a special occasion but a meaningful tribute to a life that has touched many in the Morinville community.

Surrounded by family, friends, and neighbors, Maxine’s milestone was marked with warmth, music, and heartfelt moments that will be remembered for years to come.
